Dear Joel,

I am writing this letter to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the efforts put forth by you and your organization for the preparation and flawless execution of our excess equipment auction.

When we started this process several months ago, you assumed all responsibility for liquidating our excess equipment. As I had no experience in how an auction like ours should be orchestrated, I relied heavily on you to get this done. Between the preauction sales and equipment staging effort and the marketing strategy to involve as many digital and on-site bidders as possible, the final result proved your value. I know your staff put in many hours preparing our shop floor and working to market our equipment in such a way as to pique interest. That is appreciated too. The results reflect the combined efforts of your entire staff and I am happy and thankful with what was accomplished by all of you.

Your organization does great work and I certainly am appreciative of everything all of you did to make our auction so successful.

Best Regards,

Joe Schuetz - CFO
